

Declaring Pre-Business (all College of Business Majors)

Note: The following information applies to students whose major is anything other than a pre-business major and who wish to be a pre-business major. The rules and procedures for declaring an upper division Business major are different.

Admission to the pre-business major is controlled by the College of Business Administration. Students must meet specific requirements in order to be able to change to any pre-business major.

You may change to a pre-business major if you meet one of the following:

- You have completed 6-29 college units and have an overall GPA of at least 2.0
- You have completed 30-59 college units and have an overall GPA of at least 2.7
- You have completed 60 units or more and have an overall GPA of at least 2.9

When you meet one of the requirements listed above, visit the Business Advising Center (EBA 448) for information on how to change your major.

You may not take RWS 290: Business Communications until you have declared your pre-business major. However, you may take all the other major preparatory courses and your general education courses if you are not a pre-business major.
